3. Ongoing Matters and New Business
 - a. Volunteer applications
 - i. Eva will reach out to board and volunteer applicants
 - ii. There are a few volunteer applications that need to be contacted
 - iii. Max will look through applicants who list interest in website
 - b. Reopening plans
 - i. What are we going to look like 6 months / a year from now?
 - ii. Blake looked into real estate in the past
 - iii. Eva was interested in north side of Chico
 - iv. Wayne- get community involved in this decision
 1. There was some community blowback from leaving the previous office, although we didn't have a choice. This time we can involve the community in this decision.
 - v. Involved peace community is small/limited, we can bring more and diverse people into the conversation, including the younger generations
 - vi. We can bring in people who have been more involved in CPJC (current donors, volunteers)
 - vii. We can look at other local groups (like DSA), many community volunteers are involved in multiple organizations
 - viii. Blake has been looking into office off of Esplanade

- ix. We bring in more high school students for more involvement (when Blake first started at CPJC, we were doing counter-recruitment)
- x. Event ideas: there was a Veterans Voices group where different veterans would speak on their experiences, this could be effective for counter-recruitment. Blake will check in with Izeck.
- xi. What will we do when we start back up again? Something with social interaction!
- xii. Follow-up meeting to continue this topic (Executive session Thursday 25th 6pm)

Next Board Meeting: Wednesday 14th of April
